Prohibition Forces Win Decided Victory In House

FIRST REAL TEST BALLOT IN 12 YEARS

Note 227 to 187 Against Consideration of Beck-Linthicum Resolution

RE-SUBMISSION IS OUT

Voting Takes Place Before Crowded Galleries and Follows Fiery Debate

WASHINGTON, March 14.—(UP)—The House of Representatives today voted against consideration of the Beck-Linthicum resolution. The resolution calls for submission to the states of an amendment to the constitution which in effect would return control of the liquor traffic to the states.

Defeat of the motion to consider the resolution was a decided victory for prohibition forces in the clearest cut test since the passage of the Volstead act 12 years ago.

The house voted 227 to 187 against discharging the judiciary committee from consideration of the resolution. The resolution called for submission to the states of an amendment to the constitution in effect returning to the states the control of the liquor traffic. Discharge of the committee would have brought the resolution directly before the house.

The vote took place to an accompaniment of fiery speeches and reminders that this is the idea of March—stand up and be counted.

Dry orators, in such efforts as they made to speak, met with jeers and interruptions from a militant wet minority.

Galleries were crowded with men and women sitting in the aisles.

Defeat had been expected by the anti-prohibitionists. Only the most optimistic wet leaders thought the minority would be able to gather such strength as it did. It represented the largest wet strength in the house since 117 when the 18th amendment was submitted.

The anti-prohibitionists were aided materially by a number of representatives listed as dry who felt that the Beck-Linthicum repeal resolution should be brought before the house for a direct vote. The

CARDOZO INDUCTED INTO NEW OFFICE

WASHINGTON, March 14.—(UP)—Benjamin N. Cardozo became an official and active associate justice of the United States supreme court in brief but impressive ceremonies shortly after noon today.

The installation of the famous jurist as the newest member of the nation's highest court attracted a large number of persons to the small semicircular courtroom which was once the chamber of the United States senate.

ROBBERS ESCAPE IN TUNNEL UNDER BANK

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—(UP)—An episode as fantastic as Jean Val Jean's flight through the sewers of Paris was written into Los Angeles records today, after pursuit of three bank robbers down the wet corridors of the city's storm drains.

Surprised while they were drilling a tunnel to the vaults of a bank at Adams and Figueroa streets, the subterranean burglars dashed through a barrage of tear gas and fled into the Figueroa street drain.

Detectives took up their chase, while police and firemen stood guard at manhole openings in the district. The robbers, footloose despite a foot of water and apparently conversant with the ramifications of the storm drain system, made their escape.

GEORGE EASTMAN, KODAK MAN, ENDS HIS LIFE WITH BULLET

KREUGER DEATH SHOCKS WORLD: HITS BANKERS

Swedish Government Gives Moratorium to Great Match Syndicate

PARIS, March 14.—Governments and financiers moved today to prevent world wide complications threatened by the suicide of Ivar Kreuger, whose mighty fortune built on tiny matches had strengthened the financial framework of 12 nations, including world powers.

Kreuger, dominant figure in the immense Kreuger & Toll interests, killed himself Saturday, his heart depressed by world economic distress, his shoulders bowed by weight of the responsibilities his own fortune thrust upon him.

Ill health was the immediate cause of the suicide, Kreuger's friends maintained. "Suicide while despondent," was the police verdict.

Kreister Littorin, a business associate and close friend, said effect of the world crises on Kreuger's companies "led him to make the decision." Kreuger left a letter for Littorin.

None of the dead man's financial associates or business friends expected financial repercussions as suicide normally would indicate, they said.

Moves to prevent such repercussions, however, were taken in Sweden, where a government moratorium was declared for the benefit of Kreuger and Toll companies, and in the world's financial markets.

The most recent statement of Kreuger & Toll was published here showing assets to be $86,619,251 kroner. The last annual report showed a profit of 185,000,000 kroner ($22,090,000). Reserve funds were 185,514,288 kroner.

American banks were estimated to hold $80,000,000 in Kreuger short term obligations.

The Kreuger & Toll interests reached from the workman's match pocket to the treasures of world powers and pulp paper to light and power, from iron ore to railroads, and back to the savings account of the workman.

For that reason, if for no other, Kreuger's death was bound to create a sensation from Stockholm to Ecuador, from France to almost every other country except Russia.

Kreuger established his fortune after an apprenticeship among the workmen of America—construction hand in Chicago, contractor for Archbold stadium, Syracuse university; construction work on several New York office buildings.

The fortune's foundation was Kreuger's organization of independent match companies in Sweden, later mergers, then loans to the rest of the world secured by grants on monopolies in the match business.

Kreuger's friends were shocked by news that he had been found fully clothed in a bedroom of his luxurious Paris apartment with a bullet through his heart and a revolver in his hand.

Rides Wrong Freight In Hunt for Wife

SALT LAKE CITY, March 14.—(UP)—Love sick and hungry, 20 year old Roy Beekman, Los Angeles, today laid plans to continue the search for his bride.

Beekman was in a state of collapse when taken from a freight train Sunday. He told officers he was married three weeks ago but that a bitter quarrel Wednesday ended with the departure of his wife for Spokane, Wash.

The young husband jumped on a freight train but failed to make definite inquiries of its destination. He awoke Sunday to the realization that he was in Salt Lake City.

LAND GRANTS IN SOUTHLAND LEGAL REPORT

Senate Sub-committee Dismisses Charges That Titles Fraudulent

WASHINGTON, March 14.—(UP)—Charges that large tracts of land in Southern California are held under fraudulent titles were dismissed today in the report of a Senate subcommittee.

The present claimants of the lands, the committee decided, as successors under the original grants, are the unqualified owners and have unquestioned legal title.

Contention had been made that the grants, included in lands ceded to the United States by Mexico, had been "corruptly and fraudulently delivered into the possession of private interests," that in some cases no grants had ever been made by Spain or Mexico, that in other cases false grants had been obtained or excess land included.

The lands in question, it was asserted, should probably be made a part of the public domain, and as such open to homestead entry. A so-called "homesteaders association," the committee found, had netted a stupendous financial reward" by soliciting people to make homestead applications in the belief the titles to the lands would be invalidated by congress or the courts.

The committee report, submitted by Chairman Brattton, is the result of an investigation authorized by the 70th congress and conducted here and in Los Angeles.

Its conclusions are definite:

The grants in question are separately and severally valid; their confirmation under the act of 1851 constitute res adjudicata and cannot be reviewed; no fraud in connection with its issuance being shown, the patent in each case is conclusively binding with respect to the quantity of land conveyed; such confirmation and issuance present a perfect case of repose of title and foreclose further question.

The attacks being made upon such titles are without substance or foundation," the committee believes, "and are inspired and furthered by persons seeking to profit financially at the expense of well intentioned but grossly misguided applicants for homestead entry."

AIMEE COLLAPSES AT TEMPLE SERVICES

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—(UP)—Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, rested today following a collapse yesterday as she prepared to deliver her third sermon at Angelus temple.

She swayed and then collapsed after the services had scarcely begun. She was carried from the temple to her home.

Her husband, David Hatton, said it is nothing serious. She was only exhausted. She will be able to resume her work after a day's rest.

SOVIET ACTION IN WAR CRISIS IS STRONGER

May Alter America's Recognition Toward Russia, Reports Say

WASHINGTON, March 14.—(UP)—

The possibility that the present far eastern trouble may alter America's recognition policy toward Soviet Russia is being discussed in some quarters here.

So far, it is authoritatively learned, the administration has paid no heed to the argument that the United States should strengthen Russia, and thus promote a balance of power in the far Pacific. Yet the government has become aware of a more friendly feeling toward it by the Russian press. This may, or may not, lead eventually to a restoration of normal relations.

Russian press comment reaching Washington is sincerely, but somewhat grudgingly, appreciative of the attitude the United States has taken toward Japan's adventure in Manchuria. Russia, too, has an interest in China's "three eastern provinces" and naturally welcomes the restraint the western powers have tried to place on Japan. The attitude of the Russian press is considered significant in that it, of necessity, reflects the attitude of the Kremlin.

It may be said on high authority that the United States is anxious to restore friendly relations with Russia. The feeling that the soviet state was a bogey to be shunned, which penetrated the state department during the Hughes and Kellogg regimes, is gone. Concurrently, those in authority have noticed a diminution in the public enmity opposing Russia.

Yet there is one point in the three-point list of requirements for Russian recognition laid down by Secretary Hughes which still is regarded by administration officials as an effective bar to recognition—that Russia shall promise not to spread communist propaganda in the United States.

The other two points—that Russia shall pay debts of the Kerensky and czarist regimes and guarantee the safety of American life and property in Russia—are seen as minor obstacles. But administration leaders are adamant against exchanging envoys with any state that sponsors attempts to destroy the institutions of domestic governments abroad.

American officials have received with considerable interest press reports that Soviet officials decided recently to abandon foreign propaganda abroad and concentrate on making Russia such a model industrial state that it would stand as a living example of the benefits of communism.

FORBES WILL LEAVE TOKIO ON MARCH 22

WASHINGTON, March 14.—(UP)—Emperor Hirohito acceded to pleas of the Japanese general staff today and sanctioned withdrawal of the 11th division and a mixed brigade commanded by General Shimomoto from the Shanghai war area.

Lt. Gen. Jinsaburo Mazaki, assistant chief of the general staff, conferred with the emperor before the order was issued. It was understood the general staff had asked for the return of the original Shanghai expeditionary force commanded by Lt. Gen. Kenkichi Uyeda.

Emperor Hirohito will bid the American envoy farewell at a luncheon next Friday. Ambassador Joseph C. Grew, formerly assigned to Istanbul, has left Tokio to succeed Forbes.

Leaves Note Saying Work Is Finished

Multi-millionaire Founder of Camera Concern Was Philanthropist

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 14.—(UP)—George Eastman, multi-millionaire founder of the Eastman Kodak interests, shot himself to death today explaining in a note that he felt his work was done.

The 77-year-old business man and inventor, who got the inspiration for his life work when he paid five dollars to a friend to learn how to operate a camera, shot himself at his home. A brief note explained:

"To my friends:

"My work is done. Why wait."

"G. E."

Shortly before noon, according to Dr. Audrey Stewart, his personal physician, Eastman ordered all attendants from his room, explaining that he wanted to write a personal note.

After they had left the room a shot was heard.

When the attendants returned to the room they found Eastman dead in bed with a revolver nearby.

Health Not Good

Eastman for a year had not been in the best of health.

His fortune was enormous, and it was estimated that he had made $100,000,000 or more in his great enterprise.

His philanthropies were in keeping with his fortune and it is estimated that he gave away $75,000,000.

Shortly after Eastman's death Dr. Stewart issued a formal statement confirming that Eastman shot himself.

The statement read:

"Mr. Eastman died at 12:50 p. m. while it was generally known that he had been ill for some years. His condition recently had been such as to give us encouragement. He was apparently, however, in such mental condition that they feared the worst, because he shot himself after sending all attendants out of his bedroom, saying, 'I've a note to write.'

"In a moment a shot was heard and when the attendants reached his bedside he was gone."

Eastman was born at Waterville, N. Y., in 1854 and shortly afterwards moved with his family to Rochester where his father, George W., established a commercial college. His father died shortly afterwards and young George was forced to go to work at 14 as an errand boy in an insurance office.

A WORD OF COMFORT

No matter what happens to you, you owe an intense loyalty to life; you must not squander it nor throw it away. However meager your success may appear to be, there is something enabling and inspiring about a man who tries to do his best with the one thing which he completely controls—i.e., his own life.

The heavier his burden of hardship and grief, the greater is the contribution he makes to the world by his courage and manliness.

Making the most of the best there is in your life. Let your love dominate and purify your life and it will carry you to the gates of Paradise.

Jumped into the car and left the vicinity, while the youth, tied firmly to the tree, watched him.

Some time later the boy was furnished with a good description of the man by the boy, but at a late hour today no trace of him had been found, according to Sheriff Logan Jackson, who is in charge of the case.

The boy is Marshall Raymond DeLong, of 910 West Second street, who told officers that he was picked up by a man in a small car while he was standing on the curbing near his home on West First street.

Accepted Stranger's Offer

The man offered to take him to the river bed to hunt ducks, the boy said. He accepted the ride with the stranger and they drove to Midway City where the boy said the man drove to the post office, got out of the car and went inside. He was gone only a short time and then returned. The car was then driven to the river bed.

The boy, apparently realizing that the stranger meant to harm him, attempted to get away, after the two had reached the river bed, but the man grabbed him roughly, twisted a handkerchief around his neck, covering the mouth and then tied him to a tree with a piece of rope which the youth had in his hand at the time he was picked up on the street.

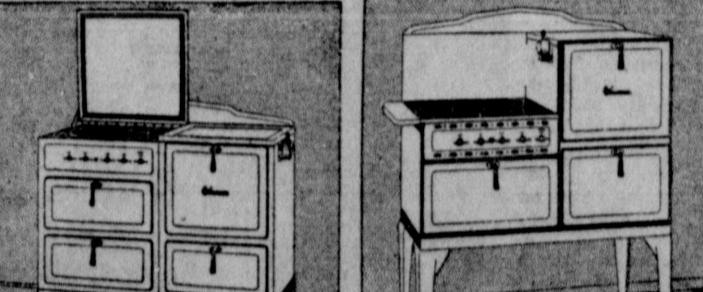

Frightened Away

Young DeLong continued to struggle and cry out and the screams, although partially muffled by the handkerchief and the fierceness with which the boy fought, is believed to have frightened the man away.

He suddenly left, after pulling off part of the youth's clothes,

GIVE A JOB SAFE CRACKERS ENTER AND ROB ANAHEIM STORE

Hot on the heels of the recent day-light holdup at the Anaheim telephone company office, safe-crackers yesterday afternoon, in broad daylight, forced their way into the Ford Sales and Service company building and the M. Elstite & Co. building on North Los Angeles street in Anaheim, broke open the safes in both establishments and escaped with total loot approximating $288.

Characterized by investigating officers as the "cleverest job" they had ever seen, the burglars neatly chiseled off the dials of both safes with but a few blows after they had broken off locks in the rear of the stores to gain entrance to the buildings. No finger prints were obtainable, officers stating that they were undoubtedly professionals and either wore gloves or coated their fingers with paraffine.

A high fence around the service entrance on the side of the Ford building screened the activities of the thieves as they broke their way into the building. Harold Kiersey, manager, was out of the city at the time of the theft, which is believed to be between noon and 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Employees of the company tried to get into the building at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon to store a car but were unable to obtain a key. The broken safe and cash register at the Ford establishment were discovered at 6:45 p.m. by J. B. Moore, an employee.

The burglar obtained around $200 at the Ford building but had little luck at the Elstite establishment, where but around $63 in cash was in the safe.

The safe in the Ford building is easily seen from the street. The thieves replaced the dial on the safe after rifling its contents. They gained entrance to the Elstite building by breaking the lock off the door at the rear entrance.

Around $200 was saved at the Ford establishment Saturday night when the keeper asked all the men to cash their pay checks so that not so much cash would be left over the weekend. The building was broken into once before in April, 1930. Nothing was taken at that time, however, as the thieves were frightened away before they had broken the safe open.

Police officers in Anaheim and finger print experts from the sheriff's office investigated the crime but found no clues with the exception of a blurred finger print on a ledger in the Ford office, which might have been of one of the employees.

The two buildings that were burglarized are next door to each other in the 300 block on North Los Angeles street in Anaheim.

Route No. 3, is in the Orange county hospital, suffering from a fracture of the skull as the result of an automobile accident near Atwood, Saturday night. The man, riding with a companion, was knocked unconscious, but on his feet. He wandered away and was found sometime later, lying on a railroad track, unconscious.

He was taken to the Orange county hospital where it was said his condition was serious.

Reports first were circulated that the man had been slugged and laid on the railroad track by enemies.

John Reyna, of Placentia, was injured about the head last night in an automobile accident near Fullerton. He was taken to the Orange county hospital.

Terel A. Benett living at 205 North Olive street in Orange was slightly injured early Sunday morning when the car which he was driving crashed into a freight train at the Santa Fe railway crossing on Spadra road. One of the companions with him was slightly injured and the other was uninjured.

Both of the injured men were treated at the Fullerton General Hospital where their cuts were dressed.

TAX PAYMENTS BEING MADE IN USUAL FASHION

With second installment of taxes becoming delinquent April 20, J. C. Lamb, county tax collector, today expressed the opinion that there would be very little delinquency on desirable property. Approximately 60 per cent of the taxes have already been paid he said and daily receipts at present are about the same as they have been in other years.

He said that he is of the opinion that it will be "business as usual" for the balance of the period until second installment taxes are delinquent. That some people in the county would let property of doubtful value go by default until conditions improve, is expected, he said.

The total amount charged to the tax collector for collection this year was $6,146,002.87, Lamb said. Of this amount $3,512,631.87 was collected during November and December on the first installment. For the first three months of 1932, to date collections have totaled $227,047.31 on the second installment leaving a balance of $3,758,679.28 still to be brought in.

The second installment of taxes became due on January 20 and will be delinquent on April 20 with a five per cent penalty attached if they are not paid by that time.

Today and Tomorrow

THE NEXT PITFALL IN THE ORIENT

GENEVA, March 14. — A COMMITTEE is now in labor and is expected to produce a resolution which the Assembly can adopt on Thursday. It is safe to assume, first, that the Assembly will not declare that Japan has violated the covenant though that is the opinion of the Assembly, and second, that the Assembly will accept the American principle and declare that new rights cannot be established by violating existing obligations. Where does this leave us in respect to the Oriental war?

It clarifies the matter to recognize that there have been two Sino-Japanese wars in the last five months. The first war was waged by Japan against the more or less autonomous Chinese authorities in Manchuria. In this war Japan is completely victorious having exterminated Chinese independence in a territory about as large as France and Germany combined.

The second war is that waged by Japan at Shanghai. Here the Japanese have won a tactical but not a strategic victory and there is at the moment a cessation of hostilities. Whether the Japanese army really intends to have an armistice and to withdraw, or whether the present moment is merely one of those pauses before another stroke, which Japanese military diplomacy has resorted to so often in the last five months, no one seems to know. It is said in Geneva that the Japanese civilian delegates have told Tokio they would resign if once again the army breaks faith. But that is rumor. The fact is that nobody can speak for the army or make agreements that bind it.

In respect to the Manchurian war, the diplomatic position is this: The League has a commission of five in the East which is to make a report aiming at a final and fundamental solution by the two governments of the questions at issue between them; the United States has declared, and presumably the nations of the League will follow suit, that no solution will be recognized by it which violates the general treaties.

Thus there is prospect a very long and elaborate diplomatic negotiation in which the Western powers will in some measure exercise a veto power. They will have reserved the right to disapprove, and their disapproval should have sufficient weight to keep the money markets of the world closed to Japan until a recognized legal order has been re-established in Manchuria.

In respect to the Shanghai war, everything is uncertain because the Japanese objectives are not clear. In the Manchurian war the objective plainly has been Japanese domination of the whole country; in the Shanghai war there are half a dozen different aims which may be imputed. But this much at least emerges: Should Japan be acting in good faith as to cessation of hostilities, the so-called round table conference proposed at Shanghai, nevertheless, presents enormous dangers to the whole moral and legal position of the British, the French, the Italians, and ourselves.

The danger is that the Western powers will seek or will accept advantages in Shanghai which will compromise them fatally in the vastly more important negotiations later about Manchuria.

No doubt each of the Western nations having a stake in Shanghai has grievances or claims against China. This would be a convenient moment to clear them up. The obvious tactics for the Japanese diplomacy is to try to make a common front of the "foreigners" against the Chinese and to entangle the Western nations as much as possible in the pursuit of advantages. Yet if any of the Western powers improves its position in Shanghai as against China in any respect all our guns are spiked for the Manchurian negotiations. Therefore it is of the utmost importance that before entering any conference at Shanghai the Western powers should in some way or other take self-denying pledges and commit themselves to the restoration of the status quo ante.

This seems to be the next important move to be made. For it must be said frankly that none of the great powers has a very good record in China and several of them obviously do not care much about having to ride the high moral horse in this affair.

The British attitude as conveyed by Sir John Simon has not been impressively candid and the French attitude, in spite of the French fervor to have Germany respect treaties, has been singularly complacent about treaty breaking in Asia. The great powers are to put it plainly, suspect they give the impression of being moved by considerations which they do not avow, and therefore nothing can be taken very confidently for granted that is not clearly agreed to.

Millions Seek Gospel, Alaska Pastor Says

EL MODENA, March 14.—At the Friends church services at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, the Rev. Robert Sams, a missionary from Alaska, preached the sermon. He said in part:

"One of the great objectives of worship is Christian fellowship and let us remember that our fellowship is with the Son and with the Father. I want to call your attention to two passages of scripture; one, in John 4:23 (But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him.)

"What a blessing we receive if we come to the Lord in that spirit. The other, the words of the woman of Samaria, found in John 4:29 (Come see a man, which told me all things that ever I did: is not this the Christ?) You know that was the thing that seemed to impress that woman most. How much more important it would have been to have told of the Great Teacher who had told her of the water of life. If we don't want things told about our past life, put them under the blood of the Christ, and they will be remembered no more.

Martin Luther at the close of his life, was tempted in his sickness. He had a vision that Satan came, and that he had a scroll and on it were written all the unsavory things Martin Luther had ever done. And the devil said, "There is no hope, look at all these things you have done." And he said, "Satan, I know it is true, but Jesus has covered it all over with His blood."

"Most people expect us to confine our remarks to our work in the mission field, to the scenery of the country, and to the home life of the people. Some have said to me, 'Don't you have any curios?' The things of the world have become so common. But often the Lord leads me to speak; it is a privilege to see His workings in the hearts of people who are referred to as not having many privileges. The Lord seems to open the door to help encourage those who have been helping others. Paul says in Hebrews 6:10 (For God is not unrighteous to forget your work and labour of love, which ye have shewed toward His name, in that ye have ministered to the saints, and do minister). How faithful the Hebrews had been in contributing to the work. Don't conclude that the work is finished, it is just begun. Millions on earth are sighing for the gospel, but the laborers are few. If the Lord lays it in the heart of any of you to go to the mission field, do not neglect the call.

"When I stood here 35 years ago, I was just putting on the harness. Don't think, young people, that there is nothing left for you to do. The task is unfinished; there will always be great multitudes of humanity, needing the Saviour; the Holy Spirit is able to lead. It is very fitting that we should think about life, for Easter is centered upon the great theme of life. People are interested in the physical existence, and if the thought of death comes, we pass it as soon as possible, and try to let our thought be concentrated on life."

OBSERVE 50TH WEDDING EVENT AT RECEPTION

ORANGE, March 14.—For Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Myers, 527 East Maple street, life has proved very kind, for Saturday it gave them a gift not freely accorded mankind in general, the gift of a golden wedding anniversary which they observed with children and grandchildren and fellow-members of the First Presbyterian church, where they have worshipped since their first pledged their vows half a century ago.

Two events were arranged for the observance of the wedding anniversary. The first was the dinner and reception given by the Myers' daughters, Mrs. Homer Davis and Mrs. M. E. Jemison, of this city, and a golden wedding service arranged in connection with the church service at the First Presbyterian church last night.

Dinner at Church

The dinner and reception took place Saturday in the lower small dining room of the Presbyterian church, where a large white wedding bell encrusted with gold hung in an archway, on the other side of which had been arranged a beautifully furnished living room with overstuffed furniture, softly shaded lamps and potted plants and palms.

The tables were arranged in a square and in the space in the center were baskets of mustard blossoms while in corners of the room were baskets of orchid and white stock. Pale gold sweet peas in clear crystal baskets were placed down the length of the tables and tall white candles lightly touched with gold were set in candelabra of delicate filigree gold. Favors were candies wrapped to represent gold coins and white doilies were gold edged. Over each nutcup with which was combined the place cards, hung a miniature wedding bell. A gold covered record book held the names of guests who attended the reception and dinner. Ices were in gold and white and the wedding cake was surmounted with a little bride and bridegroom, while the same figurines were placed at varying intervals along the length of the tables. A long basket of half-blown yellow roses was one of the especially lovely floral gifts to Mr. and Mrs. Myers.

Singing Enjoyed

Group singing of old-time songs, the words of which were found in small gold-covered books at each place, was an enjoyable feature of the dinner, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Davis sang "When Your Hair Has Turned to Silver." Mrs. Jemison was at the piano. Mrs. Jemison is the oldest daughter of the home and formerly was Maude Myers, and Mrs. Davis, the youngest, and formerly was Sue Myers.

Coming as complete surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Davis was the arrangement made for the re-pledging of their vows taken so many years ago. The wedding mass was played by Mrs. Ralph Myers and the officiating pastor was the Rev. M. L. Pearson, retired pastor of the church, who married Mr. and Mrs. Homer Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Myers. Dainty little flower girls were Rosemary Myers in an orchid frock and Yvonne Jemison in daffodil yellow, while Armysta Sue Davis in flesh-colored chiffon, carried the rings in the hearts of Hiles. The rings were placed on the fingers of their parents by the oldest son of the home, J. Arthur Myers and the oldest daughter, Mrs. Jemison, and were gifts from the children to their parents.

Mrs. Myers wore a white satin-back crepe and a corsage of white gardenias and the same gold broach and ear-rings which had been given her by Mr. Myers at the time of their marriage.

Married in Kansas

Mr. and Mrs. Myers were married at Osborn, Kans., by the Rev. M. J. Batchelor, a pastor of the Presbyterian church of that place. Mrs. Myers was Miss Sarah M. Kessel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Kessel, pioneers of Kansas and Iowa. Mr. Myers was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Myers, who were residents of Pennsylvania. Mr. Myers' five brothers and his two sisters held a family reunion last year in Barto, Fla., when all were present.

The couple has seven children, the oldest twin boys, Archie Myers, of Osborn, Kans., and J. Arthur Myers, of Topeka, Kans.; Mrs. Maude Jemison, of Orange; Ralph Myers, of Ontario; A. Roy Myers, devoting the past six years of her life.

MIDGET CLOSES REVIVAL WITH STORY OF LIFE

Saturday evening, Miss Beal talked on "The Great Physician," taking her text from James 5. She stated that it is not God's will that anyone be sick or bound with chains of disease. When Jesus went to the cross, He did not only go for the sins of man, but by His stripes man is healed. Healings received by the lepers, the blind and those ill with the fever are told of in the Bible, she continued.

Continuing, the pastor said that the Bible describes the last days as being replete with covetous, boisterous, those who are unholy, unthankful and without natural affection. In the last days there will be false accusers, and traitors. She stated that such a picture is applicable to the present, and that the coming of the Lord is not far off.

and Mrs. Roy E. Faes and daughter took part in the meetings.

"The Great Thrill" was the topic for Miss Beal's sermon Sunday afternoon. In this, she said that the greatest thrill will come when man sees the Lord coming in the clouds and every eye shall be uplifted on him. She quoted from the Scripture, "Watch ye therefore and pray always that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of Man."

AVIATION STRONGER

NEW YORK—After weathering two hectic years, 1930 and 1931, aviation enters the present year considerably stronger. Charles L. Lawrence, resident of the Aero-nautical Chamber of Commerce, reports. Readjustments of the past two years and the weeding out of weak lines in aviation's chain of manufacturers and air lines operators, has brought about this about. Lawrence was reelected to the presidency of the aircraft industry's trade association at a meeting of the board of governors here.

Addresses Heard Yesterday In Santa Ana Churches

INFLUENCE OF CHARACTER IS SERMON THEME

The Rev. T. W. Ringland, of the United Brethren church, preached yesterday on the subject "The Influence of Character," and took for his scripture lesson Rom. 14:7. He said in part:

"No man liveth to himself. Man is naturally a social creature and every person is yielding an influence over some one for good or bad. Our influence is felt at home, in the church, in the community and to some extent even in the nation."

"Paul says, 'If meat causes my brother to offend I will eat no meat so long as the world stands.' The humblest man who moves in the smallest circles of society exerts a certain influence over the few with whom he comes in contact and so on through the larger circles of society. The larger the circle the greater the responsibility. And influence once exerted leaves its impression. It is like the pebble dropped on the smooth surface of water. Rings start out from that place and go on and on till they touch the farther shore."

"In the Garden of Eden when the first pair sinned, the influence has gone on and on till it is felt today in the world of sin. When Christ died on Calvary an influence was started which to the present time cannot be measured."

"No man dieth to himself. The old patriarchs, apostles and disciples of Bible times have cast an influence over the world by their dying which will never cease. Thoughts, words and deeds are the foundation of our influence and if these are strong and true the building will surely stand."

"We are created in the image of God and are responsible to Him for our every act so it is very important as to the lives we live. We are followers of Christ and His cause should be ours."

"The church of God is being tried today as never before and there should be a distinct demarcation between the church member and those outside. The outsider is watching the church member closely and the influence she sheds is a cause for serious thought."

"The business man is looked up to as a leader in the financial world and how important it is that he exert his influence for the good. Nothing is so great in all the world as a young life who has come out and out for Christ and letting the world know just where he stands. Parents should realize this truth and should surround their children with every influence that will help them to take this stand."

"It is sweet to have a pleasant home with parents and friends to whom we can go for comfort or help, but how much sweeter it is to be at home with God. We do not know the power of our influence. It will live on and on long after we leave this world."

"Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your Father which is in Heaven."

"Building," Topic Chosen by Pastor For Sunday Talk

Time builders and dreamers may have many things in common, according to the Rev. C. C. Houston of the Southside Church of Christ in his sermon yesterday. His topic was "Building."

He said in part:

"To the one who believes the Bible contains the revelation of God to man, surely building for eternity is the most vital. He should realize that when God has promised certain blessings through a certain law it would be the greatest folly to ask for the blessing while neglecting to obey that law. The very idea of building involves activity. We must build according to the specifications. The first thing in building for God is to have the proper relationship—that of a child, not by creation, but by the recreation or the New Birth as called. As John says: 'Now are we the sons of God.' Second, we need to have the character of a saint, sanctioned or separated one as Paul says: 'Follow peace with all men and holiness without which no man shall see the Lord.'

MAJOR POLITICAL PARTIES' PLATFORMS MEANINGLESS IS CHARGED BY FORUM SPEAKER

Declaring the platforms of major political parties to be almost meaningless, J. F. Burke was the speaker yesterday morning at the Religious Forum of the First Baptist church. Party platforms, he said, have lost their meaning because the parties advance them for the sole purpose of getting votes rather than standing for a principle.

Very few candidates have been in their party platforms in toto and in only a few instances have they refused to run for office on a platform in which they could not and did not believe. The most notable example of this, he said, was in 1904, when Judge Alton B. Parker refused to stand for the financial plank of his party and withheld his candidacy until it had been changed.

In attempting to please all the people, the Republican party, Burke said, is planning to run President Hoover for reelection to please the prohibition element. The plank providing for repeal of the National Prohibition Act as a referendum was included to please the liquor interests.

It would be a glorious thing, Burke said, for the president to do as Parker did in 1904 and refuse to run unless the platform was out and out for prohibition. If the president really should make his stand known that he would rather go down to defeat and retain his standards than to be swept to victory through subterfuge, he would deserve victory, whether he got it or not. Otherwise he would not deserve it even if he did win.

The Reverend Lindgren said in part:

"God did not create the devil but he did create the one who became the devil. Through pride and an ambition to take the place of God he fell. Jesus when of him, said: 'I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven' and again referred to him as one who 'abode not in the truth.' His standing was once 'in the truth' and from that position he fell and became the first apostate.

"The first mention of anything in the Bible usually hints at and forecasts much of what is later developed. We find the devil first in the Garden of Eden. There we are introduced to his real character, his realm of operation and his method of working. His objective there has always been his objective—to alter, to bring into question as a statement of veracity, and to nullify God's word.

"We are apt to associate the devil entirely with the vicious sins of men in this world. All these things are declared in the Bible to be the 'works of the flesh.'

"The devil's real target is the Word of God. He started with that and he continues with that. He is working under cover of superior knowledge or the cloak of scholarship. Bringing about doubt in God's word is satanic work and is the opening to every vice known to the human race as history clear back to the Garden of Eden shows and present conditions confirm."

The world looks beautiful to those who see goodness in others, instead of fault finding. They are creating their heaven about them. If one permits selfish motives to take possession, the good within diminishes. Permit the sunlight of God's love and understanding to enter and one receives wonderful dividends.

EMPLOYES OF TELEPHONE CO. CHURCH GUESTS

Repentance Of Esau, Topic For Talk by Pastor

Rev. C. D. Hicks, pastor of the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, preached yesterday morning on the subject of "Esau's Repentance" choosing his text from Hebrews, 12:17. "For we know now that afterwards, when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected; for he found no place for repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears." He said in part:

"This text is sometimes used to promote the dangerous doctrine that we may get into such a relationship toward God that no matter how much we may be concerned or how sorry we may be for our past there is no repentance to be found and that we must then content ourselves to be forever lost. We are sure the text teaches no such dangerous doctrine. Any educational process," he said, "which fails to bring youth in touch with values that are real, fails by so much of being a complete and balanced program. If religion is a real value, then young people have a right to know it."

In developing the text, "Learn to do well," President Lamson pointed out that goodness and character must be achieved with effort. "Human nature is not naturally and instinctively good," he said. "Man's original tendencies are not good and never have been. This thing we call original nature is often anti-social in its tendencies. The undesirable patterns of conduct may be sloughed off and Christ-like ways brought over the transaction. Too many young men today think only of the pleasure present and not of the character in the future."

President Lamson does not believe that enough emphasis has been placed on the development of character in our educational program. "We have been teaching how to sharpen knives," he said. "Now we must train the consciences of men to use these knives in the right sort of way."

Rev. Edgar M. Robb, pastor, preached the sermon at the evening service.

PERSONALITY OF DEVIL IS SERMON TOPIC

With the employees of the Telephone company and their families and friends as guests of the First Baptist church last evening the minister, Harry Evans Owings, spoke on the subject, "Number, Please. . . Thank you." The special music was furnished by the Bel Canto club of the company under the direction of E. M. Waycott. Miss Helen Lutz was at the piano. The selections rendered were "Morning" (Oley Speaks) "Morning Hymn" (Geo. Henchel) and "Let All My Life Be Music" (Chas. Gross). As an offertory number Miss Calla Posseil sang a solo "Enough to Know" by Francis Porter Ross.

The subject tonight is the expression we hear every time we use the telephone, "Number, Please. . . Thank You." It is the symbol of service, and that service with courtesy, service with pleasantness, service with patience. I want you employees of the Telephone company ever to remember that that kind of service is most helpful both to yourselves and to the public. For courtesy and pleasantness, patience and service are some of life's helpful and wholesome values.

It is service that Jesus Christ both taught and lived. He declared himself as one who served among his fellows and urged upon his followers the policy of serving others rather than expecting to be served. The world is still divided into the two classes, those who are resolved to "get theirs" no matter what happens to the others and those who try to see that others "get theirs" as well.

And, too, we recognize that there are for most of us two kinds of service, that which is compulsory and required and that which is voluntary and extra. It is this latter service that discloses whether service is our policy of living.

The Christian religion continues then with its insistence upon the service attitude as life's basic principle and declares that what we need is the feeling not that the world owes us a living because we have arrived, but that we have a glorious chance to serve and work, to fit and help while we are here.

The meetings will be held at 10 o'clock each morning. Boston Guest Honored
At Informal Affair
In Nau Residence

Entertaining informally for a few of her friends, Mrs. Samuel W. Nau of Prospect avenue, Tustin, was at home Saturday at a luncheon and bridge affair arranged in honor of her aunt, Mrs. Adelaide P. Marston of Boston, who is visiting in Santa Ana.

Mrs. Nau's home benefited Saturday by the generosity of several friends, Mesdames C. E. Paul, Sherman Stevens and Ernest Crozier Phillips, whose gardens yielded a quantity of flowers of all descriptions for decoration purposes. Stocks and anemones, sweet peas and camellias were lavished upon the house and upon the luncheon table at which guests found their places for a 1 o'clock repeat before the bridge games. The flowers were so grouped as to accommodate a pink and green scheme.

A pleasant half hour in the hostess' gardens afforded a satisfying interlude between luncheon and cards, and guests then matched talles for the bridge contest, at which the first award went to Mrs. R. G. Tuthill, with Mrs. Clarence Gustin and Mrs. John Clarkson scoring second and third high, respectively.

Mrs. Nau had the assistance, Saturday, of her sisters-in-law, Mrs. C. P. Boyer and Mrs. Adam Kaiser.

Las Meninas Society
Accepts Pledges
At Tea

Five pledges were accepted into the society of Las Meninas at an informal tea held Saturday afternoon in the pretty home of Miss Rosalind Schilling, 915 Orange avenue. An abundance of spring flowers, including sweet peas selected from the Schilling gardens, gave an especially springlike appearance to the rooms which were darkened for the final vows. The rites were administered by the president, Miss Eugenia Gire, to the Misses Joy McPhee, Mildred Congdon, Shirley Day, Virginia Golden and Norma Wilson. Miss Grace Wurster, who was unable to be present, will be accepted at the next meeting.

Informal dancing occupied the rest of the time, with refreshments of tea, dainty sandwiches, cookies and mints served.

Those present included the hostess, Miss Schilling, the two advisors, Miss Dorothy Decker and Miss Geneva Hunton, and the Misses Catherine Harwood, Hazel Hushman, Marion Taylor, Lorna Allen, Priscilla Watson, Bonnie Kiser, Verna Helm, Agnes McKinstry, Florence Stanley, Helen Bower, Eugenia Gire, Ruth Collins, Miriam Samuelson and the new members, Norma Wilson, Virginia Golden, Shirley Day, Mildred Congdon and Joy McPhee.

Anniversary

Since Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Fages of Beverly Hills were to be in this city yesterday as guests in the home of the latter's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Young, 1815 North Main street, other relatives of Mrs. Fages, the former Miss Isabel Claire Lopez, took the opportunity to call informally during the afternoon, express their interest in the recent wedding, and welcome Mr. Fages to the family circle.

Mrs. Young and her daughter, Miss Margaret Young, received the guests and were assisted by Mrs. Olive Lopez, mother of the bride, who was here from her Holywood home to spend the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Young. Mrs. Fages wore the charming afternoon frock of lettuce green canton crepe and soft-tinted lace which she had chosen for her wedding in San Gabriel mission on February 25. With it she wore a corsage cluster of sweet peas and maidenhair.

Bowls of sweet peas and other bright-petaled blossoms gave a festive aspect to the home, and Mrs. Young and Miss Young served fruit punch and crisp cookies to the callers.

Relatives coming from a distance to join in the pleasant afternoon included Mr. and Mrs. John F. Huckins of Inglewood and their young daughter and son, Margaret Anne and Francis Huckins, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Borchers of Whittier with their little daughter and son, Rita and Harry Borchers Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. LeBlanc and little Betty Nan LeBlanc of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Olivero, Trabuco; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Robinson and family, Tustin. Other relatives included Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hitt, Mr. and Mrs. Ed F. Waite, Mrs. Hazel Lipscomb, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lufbery, Miss Minnie Young, Miss Charlotte Fine, who has been staying in Hollywood with her aunt, Mrs. Lopez, and the two sons of the home, George and Maurice Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Fages returned last night to their home in Beverly Hills. Mrs. Lopez and Miss Charlotte Fine were to return today to Hollywood.

Have Color In Cheeks

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should try Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 20 years of study.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—but have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and help overcome constipation. Take nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes sold yearly. 15c, 30c, 60c.

SPARE RIBS AND SAUER KRAUT

A poor benighted lady asks how to cook spare ribs and sauer kraut, and what to serve with them. There are two ways in which this delectable, though odoriferous combination can be cooked.

(a) By boiling: rinse the sauer kraut under the tap, and drain. Pack it into a kettle, arranging the spare ribs in alternate layers. Add some black pepper but no salt, and just a little water. Bring to a boil, then lower the heat, cover, and simmer for at least two hours, adding water as needed.

(b) By baking: (and of all ways this is the best). Rinse the kraut as directed and place it in a pan which has been generously rubbed with bacon fat. Salt, pepper, and dredge the ribs with flour, place over the kraut, add a cup of water and bake in a slow oven three hours. Add water as necessary and keep the meat turned as required.

The program director of KREG points out that this idea is a mistaken one as under the new system of prize awards everyone has an equal opportunity to win the evening prize up to the time the prize is awarded. Telephone calls come in thick and fast for the first 20 minutes of the program and it taxes the ability of two operators to take the calls on both telephones. During the last 10 minutes an average of two calls per minute are received.

Tonight at 7 o'clock Art Cannon will present another of these programs sponsored by the Chapman-Wickett department store of Fullerton. Anyone may request a number that he or she thinks Cannon does not know, or cannot play upon the instant. The only requirement is that the number selected is not more than 25 years old and was well known at some time during that period.

The programs are presented twice each week and a valuable prize is awarded each presentation in addition to a grand prize for the month.

KREG NOTES

Hill and Carden's Family Album programs, presenting the "Old Colonel" at the microphone are becoming more popular with each presentation. Nationally known personalities are reviewed in a manner that makes it possible for the old timers to recall the incidents referred to by the "Colonel." This program is on the air every Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 9:30 a. m.

Kahau's Hawaiians will be on the air again tonight at 7:30 and again at 11:30 tomorrow morning.

They are playing real music and are popular with listeners.

The program director advises everyone interested in Hawaiian music to "get a load" of this program.

Poor Duncy! He was in a fix. Said he, "I'm always playing tricks, and this time I'm the victim. Gee, I'm frosted like a cake. The frosting would have tasted good. It makes me sad to think I could have eaten it, but then, perhaps, I get a tummy ache."

"Oh, you're just clumsy," Windy said. "Look at your clothes and your poor head. When that big bowl tipped over, 'twas a funny sight to see. That's why we had to laugh at you. You're always doing something new. All I can say is, that I'm glad it didn't spill on me."

And then the baker said, "Well, son, I guess that something must be done. You can't walk round, all sticky. What do you intend to do? If you had one more suit to wear, I guess you wouldn't need to care. Now, think of some way out of this. It's simply up to you."

But, ere wee Duncy said a word, another little voice was heard. "I

New La Habra Methodist Church Organ Dedicated

MERRIAM WILL GIVE ADDRESS AT $5 DINNER

LA HABRA, March 14.—With every available seat filled and many crowded in the hall of the church, the eighteenth anniversary services and dedication program for the Leuhm Memorial church were held Sunday at the Methodist church here.

Several past pastors of the church were present and were seated on the platform. The Rev. L. D. Johnson, a former pastor, offered the pastoral prayer. The Rev. E. M. Sutton, also formerly a pastor of the church, read the psalms, the Rev. S. Ridgeway read the scripture lesson and the Rev. H. H. Strandberg of Pasadena, pastor of the church in 1914 when the present church was dedicated, gave the sermon, with the Rev. Sheridan Phillips pronouncing the benediction.

During the services the Rev. H. O. Simmons, present pastor of the church, called for charter members who were present. Mrs. Flora Little responded. Many others were present who were old-time members, but who have since moved to other localities.

Presentation on behalf of the Leuhm family was made by Edgar Leuhm, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John Leuhm, whose 15th wedding anniversary was the incentive for the gift of the pipe organ to the church by Mrs. Leuhm Latzer, of Highland, Illinois, sister to Mr. Leuhm. M. J. Pickering of the church made the acceptance.

On Tuesday night a $5 banquet will be held by the church for the purpose of paying off on the church debt, and Lieutenant Governor Frank Merriam will be the speaker. Following the banquet a 30-minute organ recital will be given by Miss Helen Jackson, of La Habra, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Leuhm.

Cartwright Beats Murray; Time, 1:59

first in a 22.8 "two-twenty," and then won the relay for Santa Ana by overtaking Arnett in the last strides of the anchor lap after starting several yards behind because of a mixup in the baton pass.

Bancker, outrun in the early stages of the 440, flashed tremendous power in the last 50 yards and ran his opposition into the ground to win by two yards in 52. Harry Appleby and Bob Dixson, although unplaced behind San Diego's Pollard and Wescott, also showed possibilities. They were always strong contenders.

With all due respect to Cartwright's amazing half-mile, the closest race of the afternoon was the mile in which the scattered spectators almost witnessed the phenomena of a dead heat between four men, Frank Ronshoh of Santa Ana and Carmona Snyder and Hubbard of San Diego. This quartet finished within a yard of each other, Carmona first, Ronshoh second and Snyder third. The time, 4:55, was exceptional considering that the first lap was run at a small's pace.

Red Kidder, Duane Larabee and Walt Hendrie made a clean sweep of the high hurdles when Fred Montpelier, San Diego captain and the winner by a yard, was disqualified for knocking over three hurdles.

Montpelier came back to win the 220 yards in 25.6 with Floyd Montgomery of the Saints a good second.

The results:

100 yard dash—Bawak (SD) first, Arnett (SD) second, Swisshelm (SA) third. Time, 10.2 sec.

220 yard dash—Swisshelm (SA) and Bawak (SD) tied for first, Murray (SA) second. Time, 22.8 sec.

440 yard dash—Ranacher (SA) first, Pollack (SD) second, Westcott (SD) third. Time, 52.2 sec.

880 yard run—Cartwright (SA) first, Pollack (SD) second, Meyers (SD) third. Time, 1 min. 59.5 sec.

Elle run—Carmona (SD) first, Ronshoh (SA) second, Snyder (SD) third.

320 yard high hurdles—Kidder (SA) first, Larabee (SA) second, Hendrie (SA) third. Time, 16.2 sec. Montpelier (SD) won but was disqualified.

220 yard low hurdles—Montpelier (SD) first, Larabee (SA) second, Hendrie (SA) third. Time, 1 min. 25.6 sec.

Roly—Won by Santa Ana (Anderson, Kidder, Motley, Swisshelm). Time, 4 min. 53 sec.

320 yard high hurdles—Kidder (SA) first, Larabee (SA) second, Hendrie (SA) third. Distance, 44 feet, 6 inches.

Discus throw—Arnett (SD) first, Day (SD) second, Blower (SA) third.

High jump—Anderson (SD) first, Pollack (SD) second, Kidder (SA) third. Distance, 5 feet, 10 inches.

Broad jump—Montpelier (SD) first, Pollack (SD) second, Kidder (SA) third. Distance, 21 feet, 13 inches.

SOCIETY

Jaysee Service Clubs Share Evening at Laguna Beach

Secured a complete success was the party held Friday evening through the combined efforts of Las Minas and Buccaneers of Santa Ana junior college, when members of those organizations were entertained in the spacious home of Miss Ruth Collins, Blue Bird canyon road, Laguna.

A delectable supper was served early in the evening, after which an informal program furnished by pledges of both groups, added hilarity to the occasion. A highlight of the entertainment was the balcony scene of "Romeo and Juliet," which was enacted by Buccaneers pledges, Lawrence Ridgeway and Fred Brooks. Informal bridge and other card games, and dancing whiled away the remaining evening hours.

Those present included Miss Dorothy Decker, Las Minas advisor; pledges Joy McPhee, Mildred Congdon, Shirley Day, and Norma Wilson, and members, Ruth Collier, Ned McDonald, Hazel Hushman, Lorna Allen, Priscilla Watson.

WALKING WITH FATHER

Members of the Wrycenda Magne club of the Y. W. C. A. are anticipating their annual birthday dinner to be held tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock at Hotel Naples, Long Beach. The club's sixth anniversary will be celebrated.

Many former members as well as those now active in the club are planning to attend. An entertaining program is promised with Miss Johnson, former Santa Ana man killed in a traffic crash near Brawley on Friday night, will be held today at 3 p.m. in the chapel of the Mountain View Cemetery, Pasadena, according to word received here today.

Johnson died in a crash between his car and an oil truck at Westmoreland. His companion at the time, Clyde N. Waddington, also was killed.

Johnson was a nephew of V. D. Johnson, secretary of the Orange Chamber of Commerce. In 1922 he was appointed general superintendent of the Los Angeles Union Stock Yards, and at that time was living at the Meyer hotel, at 306 Spurgeon street.

In the same year he married Miss Joeli Sharp, a Santa Ana school teacher, who survives him. His wife's mother, Mrs. G. S. Sharp, resides at 222 Orange avenue, Santa Ana.

Funeral services for Thomas E. Johnson, former Santa Ana man, killed in a traffic crash near Brawley on Friday night, will be held today at 3 p.m. in the chapel of the Mountain View Cemetery, Pasadena, according to word received here today.

Johnson died in a crash between his car and an oil truck at Westmoreland. His companion at the time, Clyde N. Waddington, also was killed.

Johnson was a nephew of V. D. Johnson, secretary of the Orange Chamber of Commerce. In 1922 he was appointed general superintendent of the Los Angeles Union Stock Yards, and at that time was living at the Meyer hotel, at 306 Spurgeon street.

In the same year he married Miss Joeli Sharp, a Santa Ana school teacher, who survives him. His wife's mother, Mrs. G. S. Sharp, resides at 222 Orange avenue, Santa Ana.

FELLOWSHIP OF PRAYER

DAILY LENTEN DEVOTION

Prepared by the Rev. Dwight J. Bradley
Sponsored by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America

MONDAY, March 14

"Jesus Loved Martha, and Her Sister, and Lazarus"

(Read John 11:1-36.)

What a mistake it is to draw a line between religious love, and the love which we have for each other. All love is one and all love is sacred; but when we let it be separated from our devotion to God it loses its deeper meaning. Jesus loved people, yet never did His love for people seem to Him to be in contrast to the love He had for God. He preached and practiced an attitude of universal Love, centering in God, and reaching out to every man, woman and child. So should we try to do; connecting our dearest human relationships always with our love of God.

Prayer: We thank Thee, Our Father, for the precious intimacies of life, for those who are dear to us, for our friends and companions. We thank Thee also, for the steadfastness that comes from the knowledge that others care for us. Bless our relationships, we pray, and keep them beautiful by Thy Spirit. Strengthen our loyalties and enlarge our sympathies. Save us from jealousy, and fill us with impulses that are generous; that we may so feel toward those whom we cherish on this earth that our love for Thee and for them may be bound up together in one great and holy passion, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

A MESSAGE TO THE UNEMPLOYED

In this time of deep distress, with you literally thousands of people in Orange county who are unfortunately out of employment and income, we would have a few words.

We have had your interest in constant mind for months. We have backed every movement looking toward the furnishing of employment to you and of means to relieve your distress. We have not been as successful as we would like to have been, and as hundreds of people in Santa Ana and Orange county would like to have it.

Our efforts to obtain voluntary gifts were thwarted in a measure, and yet hundreds of people have contributed monthly here in Santa Ana to the unemployment committee, and wonderful work has been done by them, you know, on your behalf.

We have urged your employment on public work, with the hope that this public work would be of a productive character and of value, like the building of some highway or some institution that might be worth while, so that the money could both be an investment in county values, and would reach also your hands of need.

From our county treasury you have been employed for a number of weeks, and it has been great help to you, we are sure, even though in amount it has seemed so inadequate to meet the innumerable demands—in fact those demands cannot be completely met in such stressful periods.

We have felt very deeply that this money, which is in the treasury, for which no contracts are made for its expenditure, could and should be used for your aid, and we pointed this out; for doing which, as many of you know, we have received abuse heaped up and running over.

We are not saying this to create sympathy for ourselves. We do not need it. You are the ones that should have it in the fullest measure. We are saying it simply to emphasize our right to speak to you along the lines of the future.

Appeal to the authorities to help out in the strongest possible way you can. We hope they will relent and reconsider their action. But if they do not, and you must, in order to get bread sufficient for your sustenance, confess that you are an indigent and a pauper, if it is possible for you to bring yourself to do that,—do it rather than permit malnutrition to undermine the bodies of your precious children. This, if you are honorable and true men and women, if you have done your part so far in the world, if you have contributed of your means to the needs of others, it is just as honorable to receive as it is to give. Do not be ashamed of it.

It is unfortunate that there has been created in the public mind the thought that it is disgraceful and unmanly to receive, without giving employment for it. We know that you would rather give your work, rather have it done under that guise, but as this seems to be impossible, do whatever is necessary to get the needed help, if it can be gotten.

Nothing would be gained for immediate ends through appealing to a recall election to remove the officials. In the first place, it could not be had, to be of value, before seasonal employment would open to remove the immediate distress. Secondly, in two of the districts of the county, one of Santa Ana and the other embodying Anaheim and Fullerton, even if successful another election would have to be held immediately following. The primary is held in August, and the election in November. If a change is desired and is made in these two districts by the people, it will undoubtedly have an effect upon the minds of the other three members of the board, and if not, the remedy would still be in your hands to carry out later.

We know it takes a great deal of patience when democracy has furnished the remedy in such cases to resist it for the sake of the general good, but it seems to us that this is wise.

Again, let me say that those of us who have come in contact with you, and your group, realize that you are men of the same ideals as ourselves. Some of you are ex-service men, with honorable records for devoted service. Many of you are long residents of this county. Many of you even are taxpayers or have been, and would be now if you could get the money to pay your taxes, or if your property had not been foreclosed.

We know that you are all law-abiding citizens, believing in the majesty of the law and in the spirit of the democracy in which we live. We have pointed these facts out before. We have called the attention of our officials to them, but there are those who have done nothing to aid you in this campaign, who have furnished neither leadership nor any means to relieve the distressed, who are trying to create an impression that there is a spirit of violence and of ideas subversive of government in your minds.

We know how you feel, that on the one hand they seem to want to withhold public funds from your aid, and on the other, to scuttle the very work that is being carried on to give you private assistance. But in spite of this we beg you under no circumstances to give them the excuse which they may by this very action desire to force you into doing—that of giving them an excuse to call you "Reds" and "Communists" and every other term of opprobrium.

Some of them, we have no doubt, would be delighted to use your very condition, which they have made no effort to relieve, to force you into some acts or some leadership so that they could blame your friends, who have been standing by, with supporting a group who would do such things. We are confident that the presentation of your needs in some manner to the country as a whole, will find such a response as will insure that degree of succor at least which will show you that you are among friends and brethren.

A WORD TO THE BUSINESS AND FINANCIAL INTERESTS ON BEHALF OF THE UNEMPLOYED

We desire to speak a word to you who are interested in the business and in the financial institutions of Santa Ana and Orange county.

We have had most serious problems of business and finance upon us during these past months, and you know how we have tried to work these problems out together in every possible way. There have been times when, because of unfortunate circumstances, in our building and loan companies it has been necessary for us to emphasize a spirit of patience and of sympathy among the people of the city, to the end that no serious results might come to pass.

We feel that we have a right to suggest some things to you, because in all of this work, we have devoted ourselves and the columns of our paper to sustain every plan and program that looked to the rehabilitation of confidence and of business. We have spared neither time nor energy nor money to do our part in this work.

When the building and loan situation caused unrest and doubt and apprehension, and even resentment and anger, we did what we could to help unite and to build.

When the hoarding spirit was paramount in this city, we took the same attitude and emphasized the values and helped to sustain confidence and to restore it, where it had been lost, as far as it was possible for us to do so.

Now, may we not ask you, at this crucial hour, when distress is great in our city and county, to join hands in every possible way to see that the relief of the needy is afforded?

First, it may be entirely possible to have the Board of Supervisors of our county carry on as they have carried on the past few weeks, just three or four weeks longer, so as to afford this relief. You might have great weight with them. The funds are there, and this can be done.

But if you cannot do this, will you not aid to your utmost the work of the unemployment committee of the city, which is an institution carrying on voluntary work, appointed by the mayor? Subscribe and help. Some of you have already helped, but many have not. In spite of the obstacles which it has had to overcome, it has done a magnificent work, and now of course the problem becomes many times heavier, with the situation as it is from the county.

Will you not aid also in supporting the city trustees in taking whatever steps are necessary to supplement the aid which is furnished through voluntary gifts? Surely, from the largest viewpoint, the campaign for the rehabilitation of business, the restoration of confidence, and the taking care of our brothers and sisters who have been considerably unfortunate, is part of the same great program for humanity, and for giving our city and our county the real reparation which it deserves in the world.

Would it not help the reputation of Orange county a great deal more to know that we take care of our fellow citizens, under the form of employment, than to force them into a position where it would be recorded that we had hundreds of indigent paupers? This would not help us, and would injure the county, as well as to hurt the feelings of those who must do it.

It would cost no more money to do it one way than the other, if distress is to be relieved at all. In one way we get the reputation for outstanding character and purpose and ability, and in the other we do not. And we will deserve the everlasting good will of these people and have the approval of our own conscience, if we do do it.

PLEASE HELP AT THIS HOUR!

Seabury's Ambition

Riverside Daily Press

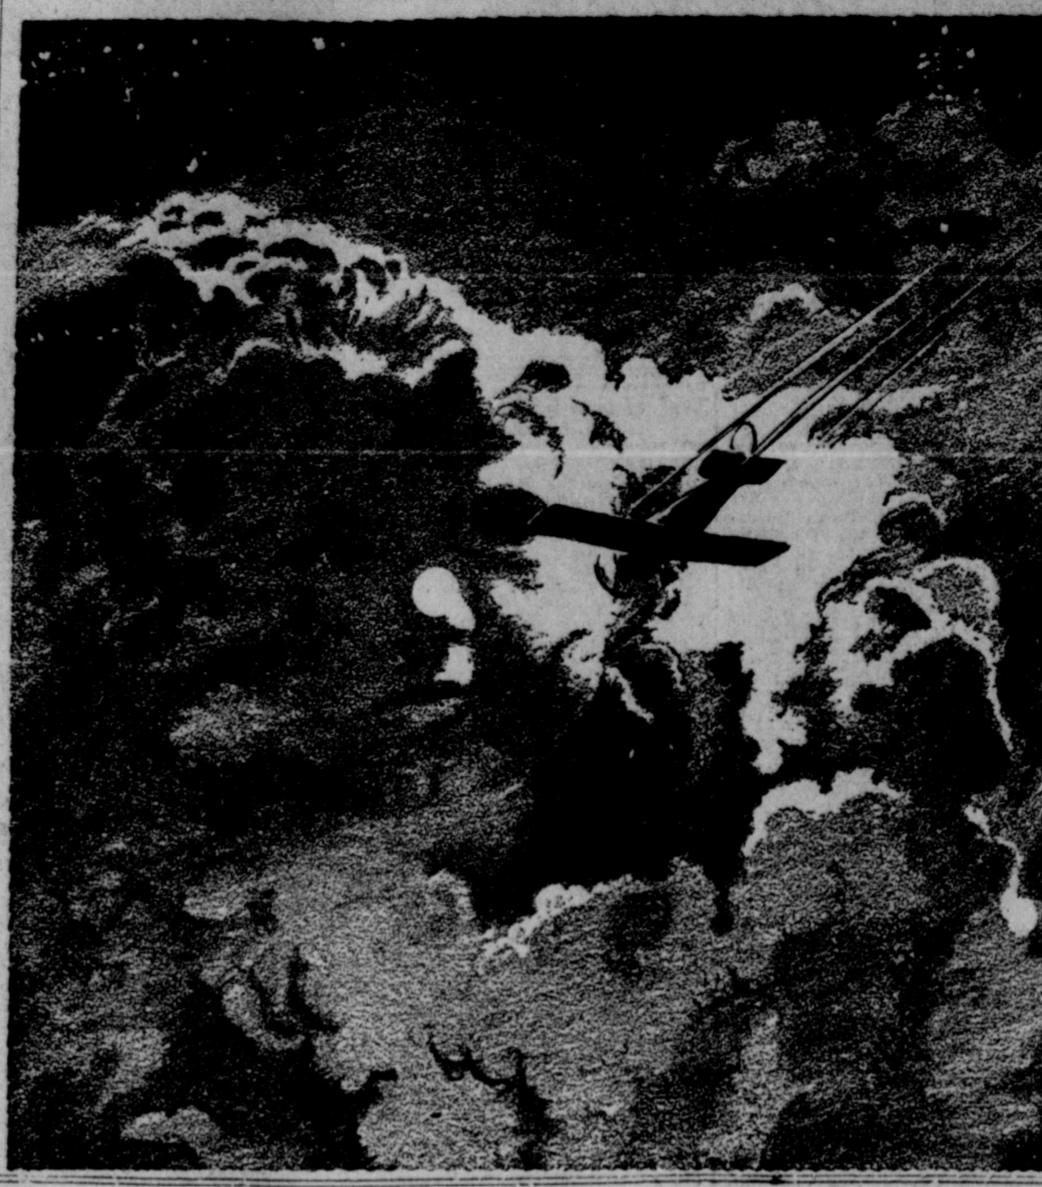

Political writers in various parts of the country seem to have been rather dismayed by the speech of Samuel Seabury, the famous expositor of Tammany graft, made in Cincinnati the other day. In that speech you may remember, Mr. Seabury violently assailed Tammany and its system of municipal government; and the political writers, in horror, began at once to suspect that the man may be looking for the Democratic presidential nomination. This one gathers from their writings, would be a terrible thing, if true. But it is a little hard to share in their shocked surprise. Suppose the man were meditating on the White House; what of it? The race is still open. And there are worse recommendations for the job than the sort of work Mr. Seabury has been doing in New York City during the past few months.

LAND USE AND ECONOMIC RECOVERY

It is a wise nation that knows towards a more statesmanlike handling of our natural resources.

The old conservation policies, in so far as they relate to our land and forest resources, are obsolete, out of step, with the changing facts of population and production, and are liabilities rather than assets in any realistic attempt to effect the recovery and stabilization of economic America.

Public discussion has centered so much on the securities market and the wage situation that we are likely to overlook the crucial importance of our land utilization policy to the problem of economic recovery.

Our economic future will not be secure until we stabilize American agriculture.

To stabilize industry will not be enough.

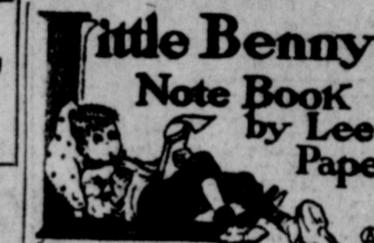

Economic America cannot endure half stable and half unstable.

We must put a nation-wide consciousness back of a new utilization movement to take the place of the old conservation movement.

The old conservation movement was a kind of half-way house between an impetuous exploitation and an intelligent utilization of our natural resources.

In the next three days I want to speak of these three eras in turn before I sound the recruit call for the new movement that we need to follow the old conservation movement.

More Truth Than Poetry

NO CHOICE

The books I read in days gone by
Were filled with love and high adventure.
And, though perhaps a trifle dry,
They never woke a word of censure.

They formed the sort of literature
That satisfied my every craving;

The heroes all were brave and pure,
The villains did the misbehaving.

I always meant to emulate
Those kind and noble-minded heroes;
I also tried my best to hate,
The villains, who had souls like Nero's.

But, though the latter raised the deuce
When base and evil passions fired them,

And frequently played fast and loose,
I sort of think that I admired them.

A different literature today
Is turned out by the novel writers;
Their heroes, too, have feet of clay,
They're just a bunch of shifty blighters.

The villains, though they still are base
And filled with guile and craven-hearted,

Are always losers in the race;

The heroes have them quite out-smarted.

And so, when we pick up a book,
We deeply troubled fiction gleaners
Not only find the crafty crook
Committing crimes and misdemeanors,

But also find the brave, strong youth
Engaged in practices unlawful.

These modern books may speak the truth,
But the result is simply awful!

Uncommon Sense

By JOHN BLAKE

DETERMINATION

The man whose experience I am about to describe has told it himself, so it is public property.

He came to New York looking for a chance to work on a newspaper.

He was still young, but he had spent a great deal of time looking for chances to get on newspapers, and he was getting impatient.

He went to various offices, and never got beyond the office boy.

At last, pretty thoroughly disgusted, he sat down and wrote a note to the editor of every newspaper in the city, an identical letter.

It set forth the fact that he had been unable to get the ear of any employer. It added that he was one of the world's best writing men, and that if this last opportunity to obtain his services was not immediately seized, he would be forced to go elsewhere.

Naturally that letter was bound to attract attention.

He got replies from every one of the men to whom he had written, and went to work the next day for the man who made him the best offer.

It so happened this young man was right about his abilities.

He was one of the world's best writing men, which the world previously discovered.

But if he had not thought out an ingenious method of getting a hearing it might have taken him years longer than it did to get his start.

In this rough and tumble existence, too much modesty is not always safe.

True, some shrinking souls do gain recognition, but they would earn it more quickly if they had a little more confidence in themselves and more ingenuity in impressing possible employers.

If you have ability to sell, be a salesman and start a campaign to sell it.

Don't overstate your article, but on the other hand don't underestimate it.

Don't be timid and shrinking, and don't be afraid of the man you hope will give you a job.

Just state your case plainly and confidently, and sooner or later you will find somebody who will be impressed by your frankness.

Naturally I am not advising anyone to try the scheme this man employed.

Stolen ideas are not any good.

But keep after the job you want, even if you are thrown out of a few offices, and by and by you will get some kind of chance to make good, even if it is a tiny one.

After that it is your affair. If you have the stuff in you, you will get along.

If you haven't, you won't. But in any event, keeping at the effort to land something can't hurt you, and it will increase your self-confidence, which is a lot.

Most people will recognize the story I have told. If you don't, you can hear it from the man over the radio or read his books almost anywhere.

He is a celebrity now.
